

Dreamgirl

(Text: Pracher, Musik: Pracher)

Once there was a girl about I had to scream I had to shout She was as silly as could be the reason, no, I couldn't see

But there was, I think I was confused, a problem, no I guess amused No problem no just liked her much

D/H/G/D

just liked, just loved it was this touch

It was the girl I always was hating know I loved her, isn't that amazing It was the girl of my dreams -

Dreamgirl, you are mine

Then one day, the sun was shining everything fine, in bed we're lying She told me that she loved me so I thought that it was time to go

I stood up and gave her a kiss told her that I would miss She was shocked I said good bye just cried, just screamed said had to die

Then it was some years ago
I saw again this girl and so We spoke a lot as we us met went to my home and then to bed

The next morning as we woke up it was again right time to stop A last kiss, the last few tears and a good bye for the next few years
